

Security and Safety Fundamental & Competency Training

ONE-DAY PROGRAMME*HRD CORP CLAIMABLE*IN-HOUSE OR PUBLIC

A one-day professional programme designed to equip participants with essential knowledge, skills and competencies in protecting premises, managing risks and handling emergencies effectively.

Participants are exposed to the critical ethics and professional standards required of today's security personnel. With a strong focus on both fundamental principles and practical applications, the programme ensures security officers gain the competency and confidence to carry out their roles professionally and align their responsibilities with overall organisational goals.

By integrating the modules below, the training emphasises not only technical knowledge but also the competency-based behaviours that define effective and professional security practitioners. In essence, this is more than a training — it is an investment in the competency, professionalism and effectiveness of security officers, reinforcing their role as key contributors to organisational safety and protection.
